Please see attached Shipment of Securities Form with TD Bank whereby I am trying to convert 100,000 shares and 100,000 wts from my original DRS Statement (on 2nd page of the attached) into shares and a DRS Statement of 100,000 wts to my TD Bank trading account and then receive a new DRS statement for the remaining balance which should be 400,000 shares and 275,000 wts.

Please contact your friend at Integral and inquire about the status of this matter as TD Bank has no idea why the shares have not been transferred in almost a week now?

Also Integral has to make a minor correction

Please and than you for your help

Yes – I am trying to effect a partial deposit of 100,000 shares and 100,000 warrants into my TD Bank – Online Webbroker account – see attached – perhaps we just need to split the DTS Statement into 2 parts to accommodate the partial transaction – alternatively, if its easier then just transfer the entire position in my DRS Statement to my account at TD Bank as its mine anyway

LMK

Thanks for your help

Hi Cassina,

Yes you can deposit a partial share into CDS. We will split the share as per deposit share amount and leave the remaining in your name itself and we will also charge the split fee while we confirm the CDS deposit itself.

But we can't confirm the warrant as it is not CDS deposit eligible.

YES – I am trying every day to have the shares deposited into my TD Bank –
Webbroker account.

I was instructed by TD Bank to personally attend at a TD Bank branch and complete a “Shipment of Securities Form” and sign it in their presence to obtain their bank witness signature guarantee – which I did – see attached.

A week later I received an email from the bank indicating I needed to obtain paper certificates and bring the paper certs into the bank and re-do a form which completely defeats the purpose of DRS. As indicated in the attached my TD Bank webbroker account number is evidenced –

We have today forwarded the following securities for ☐ New ☒ Existing ☐ Non-Registered Account ☐ Registered Plan: Account

☒ Deposit to Account No. 47XY42A Client Name: JAMES CASSINA

TD Direct Investing

can you simply transfer the shares directly or do you need TD to pull them in? If so, I only requested 100,000 shares and 100,000 warrants to be transferred in but at this point, given the 2 week delay, if you are able to deposit the whole position then please do – Kindly LMK

Below is my last correspondence from TD Bank

Thanks for your help

Valerie:

I appreciate your help completing the Shipment of Securities Form – as attached – to deposit 100,000 common shares and 100,000 warrants (the “Securities”) into my trading account at TD. Unfortunately although it has been 8 days since processing the form the Securities have not been transferred and I inquired at Integral Transfer Agency which administers the DRS and security transfers just today and they have not had any request from TD Bank to effect such a transfer – if, as and when it the request is processed it happens almost instantly – thus the concern over these 8 days.

As this matter is important to me and frankly TD Bank is a confusing maze of bureaucracy please follow up on your end so that we may resolve this matter forthwith.

Kindly advise

Thanking you

OK – but can you breakdown my attached DRS Statement into 5 separate DRS Certificate numbers of 100,000 shares each as I only wish to deposit 100,000 common shares with TD Bank and they seem confused because my DRS Statement identifies Cert# BE-1003 as being in the amount of 500,000 Common A shares.

Also – can you provide a separate DRS Statement evidencing the 375,000 warrants as TD Bank seems confused about these warrants?

In this manner it may be easier to effect the deposit of my initial request for just 100,000 common A shares to be deposited.

Please advise asap

Thanks
